

SATURDAY, JULY 16. 1743.

Leghorn, June 29.

Venetian Vessel laden with Corn was taken a little while ago by a Barbary Corsair, but her Crew having the good Luck to escape, and get on board a Maltese Galee, they instantly pursued the Privateer, came up with her, took her and her Prize, which was immediately set at Liberty. We informed, that the new Commissary-General of the Republic of Genoa, who arrived lately at Bassia, had named all the Inhabitants of Corsica to appear before him by their Representatives, which they accordingly did; and having heard his Propositions, have agreed to take them into their Consideration. Hence it is hoped, an Accommodation will ensue, but if it should fall otherwise, he is furnished with very considerable sums of Money, in order to hire Militia to force them to the Obedience of the Commonwealth, in case they will not be brought to it by any milder Way.

Mannheim, July 12. The Court is arrived here again this Evening from Schwetzingen. Upon Advice that the Army of M. Broglie was in full March from Wimpfen towards Sinzheim, on account of the Approach of the Austrian Hussars, Orders were given on the 8th, in the morning, for a Detachment of our Garrison to take Possession of a Fort upon the Rhine, to which several Pieces of Cannon, and a necessary Ammunition, were sent at the same time. The next Day our Guards were every where doubled. The same Morning we had Advice, that the Hussars had appeared in the Neighbourhood of Heidelberg, upon which the French, who were still in Town, quitted it immediately; but being somewhat in a Hurry, as not expecting these Visitors, they left a prodigious Magazine behind them. Upon the the Hussars advanced to Jachstheim, where they and the French busy in breaking their Bridges over the Neckar, many of whom they killed, and carried off seven or eight Pieces of Cannon; after which they destroyed the Bridges of Boats, and made themselves Masters of the others. M. Broglie, with his Army, passed the Rhine near Spire; and this Day the Sick and Wounded to pass, with the Rear Guard. All who have seen them agree, that never Troops were in a worse Condition.

Frankfort, July 14. Yesterday there was a great Council held in the Emperor's Presence. The Duke of Marlborough arrived here the same Day. It is said, that Marshal Noailles intends to be at Worms To-morrow, we believe he will be there this Evening. His Army is forced to March at a great Rate, to avoid finding themselves between two Fires, Prince Charles being ready in the Neighbourhood of Canstatt. Their Hussars are certainly Masters of the Neckar. The Allies have now had Orders to hold themselves ready to March, and we believe they will begin to move To-morrow; whether, or with what Views, is more than we can say. Yesterday in the Evening arrived here 16 Boats of wounded French; they were provided with English Passports, and are to continue their Passage To-morrow towards Worms. Provision and Forage continue excessive scarce, which is one Reason why we don't leave the Army of Auxiliaries can long remain here.

Paris, July 15. It begins to be owned here, that we are not Conquerors at Dettingen; the Faults are thrown on the Dukes of Grammont and Harcourt, who advanced too far, contrary to their Orders. The latter, however, is out of the Reach of all Resentment, since he is dead of his Wounds. The Marshal Broglie is expected every Hour; his Army is to march directly into Alsace, and to continue there till it is recruited. The King has written to the Emperor in very strong Terms, and has promised never to lay down his Arms, till he has restored his Imperial Majesty to his Hereditary Countries, and secured him an Equivalent for his Pretensions; but many are of Opinion here, that this Letter will come to late. We have a very unwelcome Piece of News at present, viz. That 12,000 Regular Troops from Savoy are in full March thro' Tyrol into Italy; we likewise begin to entertain real Doubts as to the Conduct of the Neapolitan Majesty, since he seems of late to be more under the Influence of the Saxon than the Spanish Court, and appears by his Message to the Duke of Modena and Count de Gages; viz. That he readily consented to their quartering their Troops in his Territories, provided they maintained a strict Neutrality, to which he is resolved to adhere, not only in regard to the Assurances given to the Britannick Majesty, but also in consequence of a late private Negotiation between him and the King of Sardinia, by which the Security of his Dominions is said to be put absolutely out of Doubt.

Hague, July 10. Private Letters have been received here, which say, that the King of Spain cannot possibly live, and that the Court was in the utmost Confusion; that the Prince of Asturias had taken his Seat in the Privy-Council; that several Grandees were returned to Court, who had not been there for some Time past; and, that it was generally believed, the King's Death would be followed by a total Revolution in the Politics of Spain, where the People are very clamorous for Peace. This, however, deserves Confirmation.

Williamsburg, in Virginia, April 15. We hear, that his Majesty's Ship South Sea-Castle, Capt. Dandridge, and the Hound, Captain Gordon, are returned from a Cruise. The latter, it is said, brought in with him a Vessel belonging to Pennsylvania, that had been drove to Sea by a Storm, from her Anchors in Delaware Bay, with only two Hands on board, and were in great Distress.

Philadelphia, May 12. Last Saturday arrived here from Providence, Capt. Dowell, in the Privateer Joseph and Mary, Confort to the George. The Spaniards have ransom'd the Settee, but refus'd to purchase her Cargo of Quicksilver, having been before supplied with that Merchandize. She has brought in a large Quantity of it, and 18,000 Pieces of Eight, being the Owners Portion. By a just Computation each private Man will share 600 Pieces of Eight. Eighty-eight Prisoners have been set at Liberty by these brave Sons of War; and Capt. Dowell expected, that many more would be released, soon after he came away.

An Infallible and Instant Cure
 For DEAFNESS, THICKNESS of HEARING, PAIN or NOISE in the EARS, &c. by the use of Chymical Specifick DROPS.

WHICH infinitely excel all other Medicines ever offer'd to the Publick, or known in the World for they directly cure Deafness, be it ever so bad, and all Thickness of Hearing and Noise in the Ears, almost at once, and after all other Means have failed, and without Trouble, or least Uneasiness whatever, as many Thousands have experienced.

They effectually remove all Pain occasion'd by Cold, Stagnation of the Tympanum or Drum of the Ear, free the auditory Nerve from Obstruction, and remedy all Defects of the Hearing Faculty, most in an Instant, causing those to hear exceeding quick and well, who before were in a Manner totally Deaf.

Hundreds who were so very bad, as not able to hear a Word when near close by them, and therefore despair'd of being ever relieved, have been quickly and perfectly cured by these drops to their great Joy and Admiration.

In a Word, nothing in Nature can come near them for the cure and almost immediate Cure of DEAFNESS, proceeding from what Cause soever; but the great Esteem and Reputation they have justly gained for many Years past, have occasion'd (as usual in such Cases) many Counterfeits to come abroad; beware therefore of such Impositions, these excellent and only true Specifick Drops being to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, of the Golden women at the two Blue Posts in Haydon-Yard, in the Strand, 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions, and no where else in England.
